BLACK PANTHER TRACK TEAM DEFEATS OLD RIVALS—COPS CHAMPIONSHIP OF VERMONT BY DECISIVE MARGIN

Middlebury Scores 81 Points to 34 for Vermont—Norwich Gets 20

COOK IS HIGH POINT MAN IN BIG MEET

Well-Balanced Team Gains Points in Every Event—Takes Ten Firsts

For the eighth consecutive year Middlebury holds the state track championship. In the annual meet held on Porter Field last Saturday the Blue athletes completely outclassed their old rivals, scoring 81 points to Vermont's 34 and to Norwich's 20. Throughout the meet the all-round supremacy of Coach Brown's proteges was never questioned, since they scored in every event, took ten first places, and in three events, the two-mile, the javelin throw, and the 220-yard dash, they placed first, second and third.

The outstanding star of the day was easily Captain Cook of Middlebury. "Doc" won first place in the quarter-mile and the broad jump, tied for first in the high jump, and was a close second in the 220-yard dash, gathering a total of 16 points. Three men tied for second honors in points scoring with ten apiece. George Peck showed great form in both high and low hurdles, winning both events. "Rolly" Crane was an easy victor in the hundred and then pulled a surprise by nosing out Cook for first place in the 220-yard dash. Barrington, Norwich's best man scored half his team's points by winning both the mile and half-mile. Cass of Middlebury and Hill of Vermont each scored a first, second and third in the weight events for a total of nine points.

Although the day was almost perfect for track, only two records were broken, both of these being in field events. The fact that no records were smashed in the running events was due largely to the soft condition of the track.

Whitney by hurling the javelin 137 feet, six inches, went two feet over the college record which Eddy had established last week in the Worcester meet. Harms of Vermont smashed the state record in the pole vault when he went over the top at a height of eleven feet and one inch. Krichbaum went over the bar at ten feet, ten inches, tying the college record but only placed third in the vaulting as Bellerose of Norwich made it at eleven feet.

The closest race of the day was in the half-mile. Kendall who had been doped to win, led the field by a close margin all the way but at the end was nosed out by only a foot when Barrington of Norwich made a heartbreaking finish. The winning time was two minutes, two and eight-tenths seconds. Barrington made fast time in the mile run also, winning it in four minutes 38 5-10 seconds. Fish of Middlebury was second in this race.

The two-mile run resulted in a walkaway for Middlebury. Hancock, a freshman, won it by a wide margin in ten minutes 31 5-10 seconds. Robinson placed second and in a fast finish "Bill" Dodd beat out Tudhope of Vermont for third place.

"Doc" Cook, taking part in four events had a busy afternoon. In the high jump he went over at five feet, six inches and tied with Potter of Mid-

New College Song Book To Come Out In June

Will Contain Favorite Middlebury Songs and Cheers

According to a statement issued this morning by Professor J. Moreno Lacalle editor of college publications, a long felt want is soon to be filled. At Commencement the first edition printed since 1902 of "The Songs of Middlebury College" will make its appearance. It will be in two parts; the songs and cheers of Middlebury in the first part followed by popular songs sung in college. Next year the editors hope to include one favorite song from each fraternity.

With the cooperation and efforts of Michael J. Lorenzo, '24, and Jesse S. Yeaw, '25, of the Song Book Committee of the Undergraduate Association and Rowland R. Shepardson, '23, and Chester R. Corsen, '23, of the Song Book Committee for 1922-1923 the editors have been able to at last produce what has up to the present time been simply a myth.

Others who have let their efforts to publishing the book are: Prof. L. J. Hathaway, Head of the Music Department, Prof. Alfred Larsen, Instructor in the Violin and Mrs. E. Pruda Wiley, '12, the author of some of Middlebury's favorite songs, Frederick B. Hiner and Gilbert W. Roberts of the class of 1902 who gave their permission to incorporate some of the Songs used in the 1902 Book.

In order to put out a better book in 1925 tudents are urged to mage suggestions and contributions to Prof. Lacalle. This edition will be limited to five hundred copies at $1.00 or $1.50 each.

Science Club Meets

Professor Bryant's lecture room was the meeting place for the second gathering of the Science Club held last Thursday evening at 7:15. The first part of the meeting was taken up with a regular business session and was followed by an illustrated lecture by Prof. Bryant on the eclipse of September 10, 1923. Later the members adjourned to the Music Studio where they enjoyed a short social program.

The club consists of fifteen faculty members and all juniors and seniors who are majoring in science.

HAPP ELECTED TO UNDERGRAD PRESIDENCY

Wins By Large Majority In Annual Elections

F. B. RICH BECOMES VICE PRESIDENT

R. L. Rice Chosen to Care For Funds

In the election of officers for the year 1924-1925 held in the McCullough Gymnasium Wednesday, May 13, Henry Happ, '25 was chosen president of the Undergraduate Association by an overwhelming majority over his competitors. F. Beacom Rich, '25, was elected vice president, R. L. Rice, '26, was elected treasurer, and

'27, secretary, Marshall Klevenow, '25, and Edwin Long, '25, were elected senior members of the Student Council; Alfred Knowles, '26, and S. Fuller Martin, '26, junior representatives and Erwin Hasseltine, '27, sophomore representative on the same body.

The election of Mr. Happ was a popular one as he has been one of the present Junior class' most active men. He is a member of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, the Delta Tau honorary society and was recently elected to Waubanakee, senior honorary society. He is president of the class of 1925, a member of the varsity track team, and president of the inter-fraternity council.

Mr. Rich is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, the Delta Tau society and also of Waubanakee. He is editor-in-chief of the 1925 Kaleidoscope, captain and manger of tennis and a letter-man in varsity basketball.

R. L. Rice, treasurer-elect, is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fratenrity, and of the Delta Tau society. He is a letter-man in varsity basketball and a member of the varsity football squad.

Marshall Klevenow, who has been elected to the student council, is captain-elect of the 1924 football team, a varsity base ball man and a member of Sages and Waubanakee. This will be Mr. Klevenow's second year on the body. Mr. Long is a member of the Kappa Delta Rho fraternity, Delta Tau and Waubanakee. He is also on the athletic council.

Coach Morey spoke briefly to the student body and urged that they give careful thought and consideration to the new Athletic Council constitution before adopting it. After much discussion the document was submitted to the student body and was passed by large majority. It is believed that the new constitution will facilitate the management of all sports and make possible a more careful distribution of the funds.

Informal Dance

About twenty-four couples attended the informal dance held in the gymnasium last Saturday night. Al Hunter's orchestra played. Polar pies were sold.

Seniors Breakfast Is Unmolested at Dawn

Outwitted Juniors Stage Revenge While Seniors Gloat

The ten-thirty bell had rung Wednesday night and all active life on the Hill had ceased. The girls, weary and worn from a day of intense study, and tired of listening to the monotonous drizzle of the rain, had stealthily crept off to bed and were soon dead to the world. Suddenly, this unusual silence was broken by the "thug-thug" of a motor. It came nearer and nearer and stopped at Battell Cottage. Silence again—then more "thug-thugs" and it was gone. The calm was not broken again until four o'clock the next morning. It was then that, just as a red hot sun was beginning to rise, little bells began to ring in each Senior's room. Just little tinkles—instantly suppressed. A Junior heard and spoke thus wisely: "Gee, how those Seniors do cram!" Then came a creacking and snapping of boards in the corridors, and slowly but surely the class of 1924 filed out of the various dorms. They made their way through the dewy cemetery and the seething jungle until they reached a spot suitable for their purpose. The mystery of the motor was then solved—for it had been the carrier of the Senior breakfast—and forthwith appeared food enough for a regiment. The delicious repast was partaken of undisturbed by a single member of the Junior class. The homeward journey was a joyous one. The Delta Kappa Epsilons, the Delta Upsilons and inhabitants of Hepburn were awakened by a burst of song. Singing and shouting, the Seniors entered Battell. Here they lingered and sang to the surprised Juniors. It was a terrible blow to the Juniors. Some fainted, others reeled, while the sturdiest of them convulsively held on to the bed posts. Nevertheless, they rallied sufficiently to steal the Senior canes, and appeared at dinner that night in full possession of those beloved articles and left with at least a mediocre amount of their former dignity.

Tri Delta Houseparty

The Delta Delta Delta sorority held a spring houseparty over the past week end at Lake Dunmore. The chapter was chaperoned by Miss Bertha Wood, who is also a member of that organization.

St. Lawrence Forfeits Game—St. Michaels Falls In Pitcher's Duel

(By Lloyd C. Harris)

Piling up a total of seventeen runs while her opponents were able to gather but one lone tally the Blue and White baseball machine continued to travel in high speed during the past week winning three games and battling the University of Vermont to a scoreless tie through ten innings of the best baseball that any Middlebury team in recent years has played. Following her remarkable showing against the Green and Gold at Burlington the Blue and White nine met St. Lawrence here on Wednesday whose team forfeited to Middlebury 9 to 0 at the start of the fifth inning with one man out when the game had been temporarily halted on account of a shower.

On Friday the highly touted Springfield Colege nine, conquerors of the famed Boston College, proved to be excellent meat for the Black Panther nine, who chewed up the Bay Staters to the tune of 6 to 1 besides tasting the offerings of three Red and White twirlers, two of whom had little effect in taming the Panther. Keeping up the good work St. Michael's was shut out 2 to 0 on Porter Field on Monday afternoon in the fastest game yet seen here this season.

Towne Twirls Triumphantly

In her game with Vermont on Tuesday Middlebury played a fast aggressive type of ball that was a puzzle throughout for the Green and Gold who had high hopes of rolling up quite a score against the Middlebury outfit but after the first inning it became evident that the contest was going to be settled between Towne, pitching for Middlebury and Newton, doing mound duty for Vermont.

In spite of the fact that Newton had the edge on Towne in the actual number of strike-outs Towne deserves all the more credit because of his ability to pull Middlebury out of the tight pinches when Vermont threatened at two different times to break the scoreless tie. Time after time when Vermont would get men on bases and get set for a run Towne would retire the Green and Gold batsmen via the strike-out route in admirable fashion and it was his own game in every sense of the word and to him goes the credit for the manner in which the Blue and White held the Green and Gold at bay for ten innings when the contest was called on account of darkness.

On Thursday rain again interfered with Middlebury's baseball plans and St. Lawrence forfeited the game 9 to 0 to Middlebury in the fifth inning after the game had been temporarily halted on account of a light shower after which the Cantonians refused to take the field with the score 1 to0 in favor of the Blue and White.

Middlebury started to break loose in the first inning when Papke hit and stole second and advanced to third

Sociability

One of the things that impresses those who visit Middlebury is a little matter which many of us do not even stop to consider. We take it for granted or else neglect it entirely. The thing to which we refer is the simple habit of campus greetings. Here at a small college we are fortunate in getting acquainted with everyone who comprises our student body. We are bound together as one family and need not stand upon formal introductions. It has been said that at a certain military institution in the south, it is a serious breech of etiquette for one man to speak to another upon the campus unless he has been formally introduced. Here it has always been a tradition to say "Hello" or "Hi, men" when ever we meet. In the fall we start out bravely to greet folks but it seems as though along about spring those greetings get weaker. To the incoming class each year there is nothing that can be done to make them feel at home and give them a deeper feeling of devotion to their Alma Mater than to be met with a smile and a friendly "Hello."

This habit is the best example of democracy to be found in a college. There are some men who never bother to speak or even to reply to a friendly greeting. Those who neglect such simple acts of courtesy are not living up to the college traditions and spirit. Since we are small we cannot afford to become intolerably high-hat. We must not let this habit die out. Spring is here, and with it comes a feeling of joy for some fine weather after a rather dreary season. Don't be afraid to show some of it! Let's hear a cheery "Hello."

Gossip

One of the primary distinctions between man and animal is his power of speech; one of the distinguishing features of a gentleman or a lady is discernment as to when to use that power and how. The value of discussion and talk is rarely disputed. After ideas have generated and been twisted and turned about in the mind, it is healthy and natural to wish to share them, and discover the opinions of others on the same subject. Any other attitude results in morbid brooding. That sort of talk is constructive and helpful, it builds up. However, this great privilege of speech may often be abused in destructive talk. Too often, in a college town, where amusements are scarce, where there are not current plays and incidents to discuss, this love of talking degenrates into gossip. There is not enough going on to talk about, so the power of invention as well as speech is used.

Gossip is not always malicious. It simply comes from the fact that the mind is tired, the person is tired, and wants to sit and chat and not think very hard; does not want to stop to count the cost of what he is saying in the results to another's welfare, or in the loss of his own self-respect. It is not so much malicious, as idle and thoughtless, and it is a question which of the two is the greater fault.

Rumors run rampant on a college campus, and in the course of a very short time, it is really startling what progress a remark can make, and what growth it can attain. It has come to the place where frequently when a statement is made, the answer is given. "Oh, you don't want to believe that. You know Middlebury." The only response we could want to give would be. "We know Middlebury, but not for such a quality."

To eliminate all threads of gossip of any sort one simple fact might be remembered. The ancient meaning of the verb was originally, "To stand sponsor for." If every person who indulges in gossip, were to remember that it might be necessary to stand sponsor for every word said, and that he would be called accountable for it, how soon this evil would be removed.

THE BILLBOARD

"FORE"

While walking up to chapel,
Quite liesurely, no more,
I heard from the banks above me
Some golfer holler, "Fore."

My gosh, but I was frightened.
Was nearly scared to death,
For those durned fellers make one
Almost lose one's breath.

But me, I was a brave one,
Or perhaps a bit cuckoo
For I strode ever onward
Where all those golf balls flew.

As I approached the chapel,
Much to my distress,
One of those dod-durned golf balls
Took me right in the vest.

Now folks I don't mean Maybe,
Nor do I mean Perhaps.
I'm not seekin or wantin
Any more such fraps.

Perhaps you'll think me foolish,
But I won't even get sore.
I'm makin' my entrance hereafter
Thru that safe, yet small back door.

Silently, swiftly thru the air a golf ball flew and landed I know not where. (Lost seventy-five cents).

Golf balls in front of them,
Baseballs to left of them,
Tennis balls to right of them,
Were hit and descended.
Seeking the door of the chapel
Unswerved even by Death,
The crowd surged bravely onward.
But believe me they held their breath.

I can't say as much as I would like about the track meet. I used to be a great splinter myself; A chip off the old block of course. Suffice to say it was a great meet. There was ———— —— ———— —— all won by Midd.

We nominate to the Hall of Fame "Bozo" the college pup who has been going around with the co-eds for over a week and has not been stepped on as yet. —BILL.

There isn't very much fun going out every day and training diligently in all kinds of weather for months in order to take part in a track meet and then not receive very much support or interest from the students. We take off our hats to the track team for their splendid showing this spring, and wish to congratulate them most heartily upon bringing the championship to Middlebury again. They have worked hard and deserve commendation.

The Campus wishes to extend to the newly elected officers of the Undergraduate Association its congratulations, and hopes that they may have success in all they undertake during their coming administration. We wish to compliment the student body for the splendid choice made in the men who will fill the offices, and hope that they will back them to the limit.

It may be lots of fun getting up at unearthly hours of the morning and getting one's breakfast out under the budding trees and the beautiful blue sky, but we feel sure that the men who burned the mid-night oil until the wee sma' hours didn't appreciate the lusty cheers which roused them out of their well-earned rest the other morning when the Senior girls returned in triumph from their annual breakfast. If they had brought us our breakfast instead of boasting about theirs we should feel quite differently about it!

COMMUNICATION

The Editor of the Middlebury Campus:

The Boston University Debating Team which recently had the pleasure of meeting the team from Middlebury College at Middlebury desires to take this opportunity to thank Middlebury College, President Paul D. Moody, Professor Wilfred Davison, and the members of the Middlebury team for the splendid hospitality with which it was received at Middlebury. From the moment that we arrived at your college we were made to feel comfortable, our every wish cared for and to be very truthful, our fondest expectations in the matter of hospitality were exceeded.

The team wishes to assure Middlebury College that it has made an indelible impression on the Debating History of Boston University through its fair, clear, above-board method of debating and through its most generous hospitality.

With best wishes for a most successful debating future for Middlebury College we are,

Sincerely yours,
David H. Greenburgh, Capt.
George C. MacLaughlin,
Harold R. Hall,
Daniel W. O'Donnell, Alternate.

Tentative Program For Commencement Given

The Trustees at their last meeting voted to increase the time devoted to Commencement by one day in order to give more scope to alumni activities and reunions. The immediate effect of this is that Commencement Day will be on Tuesday, June 17, thus setting Monday, June 16, free for alumni activities. A tentative program follows:

Saturday morning, June 14, Phi Beta Kappa Meeting, Class Day Exercises; afternoon, baseball, Norwich vs. Middlebury; evening, Commencement concert.

Sunday morning, June 15, Baccalaureate sermon; evening, Vesper service, Fraternity reunions.

Monday morning, June 16, Alumni and Alumnae meetings; noon, Alumni and Alumnae luncheon; afternoon, Alumni reunions; evening Commencement play, "Twelfth Night."

Tuesday, morning, Chapel service, graduation exercises; noon, Commencement luncheon; evening, President's reception, Senior ball.

Five Freshmen To Orate In Parker Prize Contest

On May 28, the Parker Prize Speaking Contest open to the men of the class of 1927 will be held in the Mead Memorial Chapel as previously announced. Due to the withdrawal of one of the contestants, only five freshmen will deliver their original orations. The four prizes of $50, $35, $25 and $20 will be offered as in previous years. Prof. W. E. Davison giving much time to the remaining few and the contest promises to be a success.

At the present time the list of speakers includes: Alfred L. Padula, of South Orange, N. J.; E. Marion Reighard, of Quincy, Ill.; Roger W. Stoughton, of Harwick, Vt.; C. Preston Vorce, of Mexico, N. Y., and Charles Wright of Oneida, N. Y.

Council Representatives Elected

During the past week elections were held for class representatives to the Student Government Council. The girls to hold those offices are: 1925, Helen Sheldon; 1926, Rachel Barnes; 1927, Rachel Speare. Elections were also held for the office of undergraduate representative of the Y. W. C. A. which will be filled during the coming year by Evelyn Plumley, '25.

Tennis Team Bows To U. V. M. Netmen

The Varsity Tennis team lost its opening match of the season to Vermont 4-2 last Friday. The match was held on the courts of St. Michaels due to the bad condition of the Vermont courts. Both squads have been handicapped by the lack of practice, and this was fairly noticeable. The match was closer than the score indicates and was not decided until the final match of the afternoon between the two captains, Roberts and Rich. In every one of the matches Vermont was extended to three sets.

In the opening double match Roberts and Guild defeated Rich and Fletcher of Middlebury in a hard fought three set contest. The second doubles was also won by the Vermont team who defeated Adams and Wolfskehl. This was featured by the playing of Adams of Middlebury. With the score 2-0, Middlebury tied the score as the result of the straight set victories of Hickox and Wolfskehl. In the final matches of the afternoon Fletcher lost to Guild and Rich lost to Roberts. This latter match was the best of the afternoon, both men playing mid season tennis.

The team left yesterday on a four day trip. The first match will be played Wednesday against Springfield College. From there the team will travel to Middletown, Conn., to play the Weslean netmen.

Seniors Week-End at Bread Loaf

On Saturday afternoon, 34 women of the Senior class betook themselves to Bread Loaf Mountain for a week-end house party. From all reports, we gather that they had a gay and happy time. Saturday evening supper was held out-of-doors, followed by sining around the camp-fire. Sunday morning some of the party hiked to Burnt Mountain where they found three feet of snow waiting for them. The chaperones of the trip were Mrs. Mills, Miss Young and Miss Knapp, each of whom did everything possible to make the week-end a success. It is the wish of many that each succeeding Senior class will make the house-party a custom, for the get-together spirit which it brings makes it well worth while.

CHRIST IS STANDARD FOR OUR LIVES

Declares President Moody at Sunday Vespers

Pres. Moody in his sermon Sunday evening spoke upon the necessity of guiding our lives aright, and took for his text the vision of Amos when he saw "The Lord standing by a wall built by a plumb line." He explained the significance of a plumb line in building—that it hung downward and is true to the law of gravity; therefore it is absolutely sure, and a building built according to it will be perfectly straight and lasting. Now the question is: Has God left us a Plub line for the building of our lives? And the answer is Christ. We may have standards of our own by which we judge ourselves, or standards of others, but if we seek a true standard we must measure ourselves according to the life of Jesus Christ for like the plumb line he is sent from above and is true to the law of the will of God which is infinitely greater than the law of gravity.

TEACHERS COURSES AT BREAD LOAF

Courses in Method of Teaching, Debate and Play Production

All courses in the School of English are designed especially to meet the needs of teachers of English in secondary schools, but certain courses give particular attention to methods of teaching. Of these, the most comprehensive, called "The Teaching of English," is to be given by Dr. Charles R. Gaston, Head of the English Department of Richmond Hill High School, New York. Dr. Gaston is especially well qualified to give a general course on the teaching of English. He knows at first hand the problems of the high school teacher of English, he has had experience in college teaching as well and he has edited many standard English selections for use in high school. He is a graduate of Cornell University and received there the degree of Ph. D. "Who's Who in America" gives a list of his many educational publications. Readers of "The English Journal" and other educational magazines are familiar with his articles on professional problems, and he has been popular as a speaker at important conventions. He has been President of the National Council of Teachers of English, a publisher's reader, and has taught in the summer sessions of Columbia, Cornell and Bay View Universities.

In the section devoted to work in public speaking, there will be given this summer a course in the teaching of Argumentation and Debate. Bread Loaf is especially fortunate in securing for this course Professor James Milton O'Neill, Professor of Rhetoric and Oratroy in the University of Wisconsin. Professor O'Neill is a graduate of Dartmouth and has studied at Harvard and Chicago.

He was the first president of the National Association of Teachers of Speech and the first editor of the Quarterly Journal of Speech Education, and is generally considered one of the outstanding men in his profession. His textbooks on debate and public speaking are widely used, especially "A Manual of Debate and Oral Discussion," "Argumentation and Debate" (with Laycock and Scales), "Models of Speech Composition," and "Modern Short Speeches." Professor O'Neill's course is planned to consider the problems of the teaching and coaching of debate in both high school and college.

The work of the dramatic section is organized this year in four courses, two of which are laboratory courses. Professor Allen Crafton, Professor of speech and Dramatic Art at the University of Kansas, is again in charge of the general course in play production and of the plays to be presented in the Little Theater. Professor Crafton is a graduate of Knox College and received his A. M. from Harvard University. He was assistant in the 47 Workshop in 1914-15, was for two years Director of the Prairie Playhouse, an experimental theater at Galesburg, Illinois, and has taught at Wabash College and Carleton

1924-25 SHIFTS IN FACULTY ARE MADE KNOWN

Bonney Returns—Swett, and Robinson to Have Sabbatical Leave

Professor Luther I. Bonney, who has been on sabbatical leave for the past year, and engaged in post graduate work in Johns Hopkins University, will return to Middlebury next year but will be transferred from the department of Mathematics, where he has taught for the past seven years, to the department of Political Science. The vacancy in the department has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Burt Hazeltine, a graduate of Tufts College, as instructor of Mathematics.

After his graduation from Tufts in 1913, Mr. Hazeltine served as instructor in the department of the Massachusetts Agricultural College for six years, resigning to enter the Naval service. For two years he was executive officer at the Naval Reserve Radio School at Newport, R. I. After being mustered out of service he served as Professor of Mathematics at Rollins College, resigning to accept a post at his Alma Mater, Tufts College, which position he was obliged to resign later on account of ill health. During the past year he has been head of the Mathematics department at the Framingham, Mass., High School.

During the absence of Professor Swett on leave next year his classes in Geology and Geography will be handled by Mr. Eric P. Jackson, a graduate of Brown University, and a graduate student of Clark University, from which institution he has received the A. M. degree. Mr. Jackson has also done field work in Geology in Montana under the direction of the department of Harvard University. Mr. Jackson will also act as assistant in the department of Biology, and will probably give a course in Bacteriology. In connection with his graduate study at Clark, he is teaching Geography at present at Leominster, Mass.

The work in Latin with the Freshman women which has been done this year by Professor Duane L. Robinson, who will be absent on leave next year, will be carried during his absence by Miss Ruth W. Temple, Assistant Dean of Women.

The following fellowships are announced: Drawing and Surveying, Russell J. Pratt; Biology, Helen G. Cleveland; English, Helen C. Lingham.

MARGARET PECK

Popular choice for President Student Government Association

Peck, '25, Chosen Student Government President

At a meeting in the Old Chapel last Tuesday the Student Government association chose the following officers for next year: President, Margaret Peck; vice president, Evelyn Plumley; secretary, Clara Park; treasurer, Rosaling Higgins; fire chief, Lillian Randquist.

Miss Peck, the new president, brings a wealth of experience to this office, as she was class representative on the council her freshman year, and secretary of the association during the past year. She has been active in athletics and Panhellenic work, and is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Miss Plumley has been the junior council representative this year, is the new undergraduate field representative of the Y. W. C. A., and an assistant editor on The Campus staff. She has been interested in Panhellenics, and belongs to the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Miss Park has shown a keen interest in athletics in musical circles, while Miss Higgins is secretary of the junior class; both belong to the Theta Chi Epsilon sorority.

Miss Randquist is especially well known to all members of athletic teams and their followers. She is the new treasurer of the athletic association and a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

dlebury and Wilcox of Vermont for first place. Immediately after that he won the 440-yard dash in 54 1-10 seconds. Happ led the field nearly the way in this race but had the misfortune to fall down only a few yards from the finish. In the 220, Cook won his heat with Crane second. However in the finals Crane nosed him out and won in 23 6-10 seconds. Carboy took third. To finish up the day Cook won the broad jump, covering 20 feet, 8 1-2 inches.

Cass proved to be Middlebury's best at weight throwing, winning the discus with a heave of 108 feet, 4 inches, taking second in the hammer and third in the javelin. Whitney won the javelin and took third in the hammer. Eddy was second in the javelin throwing and McLaughlin got a third in the shot put.

Blue Nine Makes Strong Showing

when Whitney beat out a hit to first. Papke tried to steal home but was caught by a fraction of a second at the plate after which Hastings sacrificed and Novotny struck out. Again in the second it looked like a tally for Middlebury when Martin hit and stole second and third while Hasseltine walked. However he was left stranded as Conley flied out to first base and Kilbride was caught out at the initial sack. Again in the third Middlebury had been on bases when Papke and Whitney were walked only to have the next three men put out.

In the fourth Kilbride broke up a short lived St. Lawrence offensive rally when he threw to second and put Chester out followed a few moments later when the trick was repeated on Carroll.

Middlebury scored her one run in the last of the fourth when Hasseltine reached first on an error after Martin had been caught out at first. Conley was safe at first when the St. Lawrence first sacker stepped on himself and dropped the ball. Kilbride hit and scored Hasseltine and Conley attempted to steal home but was caught after which Papke flied out to shortsop.

In the fifth Rochford of St. Lawrence was caught out at first and Colon was at bat when the rain halted the game, bringing it to a premature close.

Midd Takes a Fall Out of Springfield

On Friday the Blue and White met the highly touted Springfield College nine, conquerers of the famed Boston College nine, but what reputation the Red and White team had when they arrived here was merely a matter of ancient history after Middlebury had had one big inning in the fourth that proved fatal for Springfield.

Springfield's only tally came in the first inning when Norfeldt, second man up for Springfield reached first after Kilbride had dropped the ball and advanced to second and third on LaBree's and Crowley's hits. His run came as a result of a bungle by Conley at third and gave Springfield their only run, an unearned one at that.

Middlebury came right back in the second and evened the score when Conley reached first on an error and went to second on Novotny's hit and scored on Papke's bingle. Kilbride fanned and Papke was caught out on a steal to second after which Hasseltine and Martin walked followed by Whitney's being caught out at first.

Middlebury tucked the game safely away in the fourth frame when Reddick lost control and walked Papke. He recovered and struck out Kilbride, walked Hasseltine and then struck out Martin. Then continuing his alterations he walked Whitney. With the bases full and two out Hastings came to bat and hit to deep left field scoring Papke and Hasseltine. Reddick was yanked at this point and Bearse sent in but he fared little better for Klevenow landed on his first offering for a two base hit scoring Whitney. Conley came to bat and hit his next choice and scored Hastings. With Novotny at bat Bearse made a balk and Klevenow came home scoring Middlebury's final run after which Novotny flied out to right field.

In the fifth Gates went in for Springfield and the remainder of the game was fast and well played with neither team getting an opportunity to score until the last of the ninth when Springfield attempted a ninth inning rally. Shanks hit to center field followed by Norfeldt's hit to infield reaching first while Shanks was caught out at second. LaBree hit a two bagger putting a man on second and third but an assist by Conley and Whitney caught the next two men out at first ending the contest.

Breaks Cost St. Mike's Victory

On Monday Coach Morey's team scored its eighth victory of the season by shutting out St. Michael's 2 to 0 and scoring their second win over the Winooski collegians this season. Middlebury's two tallies came in the last of the third inning when Maroney made a wild heave to third base in an attempt to block a double steal by Martin and Whitney who had both reached first on infield errors and enabling them to cross the plate with the runs that meant victory for the Blue and White.

With the exception of the third inning neither team had any noticeable opportunity although both succeeded in getting men on bases. However, the Purple and Gold outfit were unable to get a man beyond second for that proved to be the point of death for the St. Michael's baserunners who managed to get beyond the initial sack. St. Michael's infield was decidedly sloppy at several points and their infield made six miscues to Middlebury's one.

Both Klevenow and Delaney kept their hits few and far between although Middlebury garnered five safeties off Delaney while Klevenow only allowed the visitors three and striking out five St. Michael's men to Delaney's three.

Teaches Courses at Bread Loaf

College. Professor Crafton's work in amateur and semi-professional production has extended over a period of ten years, and has included practice in coaching, acting, and the designing and producing of scenery. This wide experience from every angle with the problems of the production of plays makes Mr. Crafton especially well qualified to be of assistance to those wanting practical experience in play production. During the summer several plays are presented by the students of the course in play production and stage design.

Besides being a successful teacher and producer and author of plays, Mr. Crafton has contributed verse to most of the poetry journals and several of the popular magazines.

The courses in stage design will be given by Miss Ruth H. Spoor, a member of the Artistic and Producing Force of the 47 Workshop. Miss Spoor is a graduate of Willamette University and has studied in the Leland Powers School. In addition to the work in the Workshop, she has been doing special work in costuming this year under the direction of Helen Harrington Boyd, with practical work in the St. James Theater, under the direction of the well-known scenic artist, Director Hansen. Miss Spoor's designs were chosen for "Hitch Your Wagon to a Star," the spring production of The 47 Workshop, and received high praise. Miss Spoor will have charge of the Workshop, in which students in the Dramatic Section will design and prepare secenry, costume, and properties for the plays to be given in the Little Theater. Under the direction of Professor Crafton and Miss Spoor, students will have opportunity for active practice in all problems connected with amateur play production.

Don't give a cap "too much rope"

Just when you're hurrying the most—zip! and away goes that shaving cream cap. The new cap on Williams ends the nuisance forever. It's hinged on and can't get lost.

In shaving, too, Williams has just as noticeable improvements: Williams lather is heavier and more closely woven. It holds the water in against the beard. Result: quicker softening. Williams lather lubricates—no irritating friction. Last, Williams is decidedly helpful to the skin. It keeps your face comfortable no matter how heavy your beard and how tender your skin. There's no coloring matter in Williams—it is a natural white, absolutely pure. Say "Williams Hinge-Cap" to your dealer.
